Floor and Wall Coverings Stone Effect

Design to live in. To admire and to love. Ariostea design combines unique, original form with high-tech yet natural substance: this is Ariostea, a leader in the production and distribution of porcelain materials, increasingly committed to on-going research and development of innovative technologies.

ULTRA Marmi Marble Effect Large Slabs

There are technological moments in which a product makes the leap to being state of the art and changes our life style.

For example, it was so for the automobile, the television, the Internet and smartphones. We feel that you could reasonably and equally look, with similar admiration, to the technological leap that has allowed the ceramic sector to move on from its traditional sizes to giant ones, like those that distinguish the Ultra project.

Ultra Onici Marble Effect Large Slabs

The exceptionality of its luxury combines with the light weight of the large size in the minimum thickness to conquer an excellence in flooring and coverings of surfaces both large and small. The technical performance of the materials comes to the fore in the harmony of the onyx and encroaches into the design guaranteeing a uniformity and flexibility of planning, even when applied to objects and furnishing accessories.

The extremely reduced 6mm thickness, together with the advanced Ultra technology, allows an appropriately powerful band of light to travel through the Onice Ultra slabs and backlight the material.

Ultra Pietre
Stone Effect Large Slabs

Ariosteal is extending Pietre's family based on Ultra technology.

Very fine 6 mm thick slabs evoke brutality and elegance of Limestone and effusive volcanic rocks with a variety of patterns and stratification hard to find in extraction rocks.

Basaltine beautiful shades find large use in many furniture and covering applications thanks to their variety of colours: from bright Basaltina White to warm and full-bodied Basaltina Moka, up to Basaltina Antracite darker and distinguishing magmatic stratifications.

Limestone superficial structure play with light in a delicate and sensitive way, giving a rich feeling of brightness and domestic warmth to space.
